Project Title	Recreation Intern for USDA Forest Service: Volunteer & Service Intern
Project Summary	Volunteers and Service Corps members are vital to the U.S. Forest Service, contributing 4.5 million hours of critical work annually. Help facilitate and further this important work! Work with mentors specializing in volunteer and service programs to increase the scope of volunteer & service.
Country	United States
Country/Region of Focus	United States

Project Description

The Volunteers & Service program of work engages over 100,000 participants that contribute about 4.5 million hours annually towards critical work in all deputy areas and on every forest and grassland. Volunteers and service participants contribute to essential work in most Forest Service functional areas. The main work accomplished with our partners and stakeholders include trail maintenance and improvements in wilderness and non-wilderness; campground hosts and facility caretakers; conducting surveys and monitoring and administering research projects; supporting facility improvements and maintenance; conservation education and fire prevention; and reforestation, rehabilitation and restoration. You will work with mentors to increase the scope and scale of volunteer and service programs provided through the U.S. Forest Service. Depending on your geographical location, you may be able to participate in field work, if desired.
